President Taft Criticized—

MEXICO CITY, Feb. 11—President Taft's policy of "hands off" is being severely criticised here today by American citizens whose lives intense anti-foreign feeling among the natives.

Two American women spectators were shot dead Sunday. As their bodies lay in the street a band of Mexican ghouls approached the corpses, but they were guarded by Americans with drawn revolvers.

President Madero secretly returned to the palace last night, after having placed his wife in the Japanese legation.

ALDERMEN AND CHIEF SEE TRUCK

IN JACKSONVILLE TODAY TO WITNESS A DEMONSTRATION

PRESIDENT SCHMIDT, ALDERMEN O'BRIEN AND KLOCK AND CHIEF VAN DORN TO RETURN
TONIGHT.

That the city council is really serious in considering the purchase of an automobile fire truck is shown by that body authorizing three of its members, President Schmidt, O'Brien and Klock, with Chief Van Dorn of the fire department, to go to Jacksonville today to witness a demonstration of one of the best known makes of automobile fire trucks.

This action was taken at a special meeting of the council held Monday afternoon, at which time a committee from the hotel men's association was read, the communication urging the purchase of such an addition to the fire fighting apparatus of the city. At this session also an agent of the manufacturers of the auto truck was present and offered to pay the expenses of the aldermen and the chief to Jacksonville today to witness a practical demonstration of the working of one of the trucks now owned by the Jacksonville fire department.

The four representatives of the city left for Jacksonville on an early train this morning and will return at 5 o'clock this afternoon, to be present at the adjourned meeting of the council tonight.

CITY COUNCIL ADJOURNS TO MEET AGAIN THIS EVENING

BOOKS OF THE ASSESSOR NOT IN CONDITION FOR COUNCIL TO BASE FAIR ESTIMATE OF VALUATIONS.

Because the books of the tax assessor are not in condition to show the increased valuation in the city of Daytona, the city council was unable to make up the annual budget at the regular meeting last night, and the council adjourned until tonight, in the hope that the books can be put into shape so the council may get some idea of the increased valuation and what the total amount of the taxes will be so the proper millage may be placed.
The budget must be made up tonight as the annual election tomorrow will bring in the new city council and the new councilmen will be sworn in at the city hall immediately after the votes have been counted. The law requires the outgoing council to prepare the budget.
The passing of bills was about the only business transacted by the council at the regular meeting.

"Symptoms."
Occasionally an afflicted lady tells why she left her husband. For the married man, of some introspection and conscience, the feeling produced by the recital is something like the feeling one used to have in reading the patent medicine list of "symptoms." He used to feel that he had 'em and deserved the treatment.

WAS SOMETHING LIKE A RUN

Munchausen Tells About a Bit of Sprinting He Witnessed in Scotland.

"Talkin' about runnin'," remarked Hon. Ananias Munchausen, "about the finest bit of sprintin' I ever saw was up in Scotland the shootin' season before last. I'd been out all day deer-shootin', and had had most awful luck when I spied a whoppin' great buck about eighteen hundred yards away. Takin' a careful sight, I let fly. But, bless your soul, the instant my bullet touched him, and before it had time to penetrate his hide, that beast was off like a flash!

"I never saw two such evenly matched things as that deer and my bullet. For over half a mile they sped on together, neither gainin' on the other, the bullet just managin' to keep in touch with the deer's skin. At the end of a mile, however, the pace began to tell on the deer, and he faltered just for a moment. 'Twas fatal. The bullet sped on, and the poor beast keeled over. He deserved his freedom if ever an animal did. He'd have got it, too, if he could have stuck out for another twenty yards, for that's about as far as my rifle carries."

Changing Nature Indirectly.
You are constantly assured that you cannot change human nature; that you cannot make people over by process of law. But if you cannot reform men by reforming the conditions that make men what they are, how is it that you can so easily debauch and degrade them by reversing the process?—Collier's Weekly.

Succeeded the Hour Glass.
The first accurate clock was set up in England at Hampton Court, in 1540. Up to that time members of the royal suite used hour-glasses in their private rooms.

The finest resort hotel in the world is being built at Sunset Mountain
Asheville, N. C.

Absolutely Fireproof
Will open July 1st

Wm. S. KENNEY, manager

MR. E. W. GROVE, of St. Louis, Mo., is building the finest resort hotel in the world, to be opened July 1st, 1913. It will be absolutely fireproof, and is being built of the great boulders of Sunset Mountain, at whose foot it sits. It is being built by hand in the old-fashioned way.
Full of rest and comfort and wholesomeness.

¶ The front lawn is the hundred-acre eighteen-hole golf links of the Asheville Country Club, and with it sixty acres of our own lawn.

¶ The purest water obtainable anywhere, piped seventeen miles, from the slopes of Mount Mitchell, over 6000 feet altitude. Biltmore milk and cream exclusively, supplied from 200 registered Jerseys on the estate of Mr. Geo. W. Vanderbilt. It is doubtful if this famous dairy is equaled in the world.

¶ Four hundred one-piece rugs are being made at Aubusson, France.
Seven hundred pieces of the furniture are being made by hand by the Roycrofters. The silver will be hand-hammered.

¶ The plumbing material will be the finest that has ever been placed in any hotel in the world. The soil pipe has been hydraulically tested and then galvanized. The hot water pipe, 18,000 lbs. in weight, will be solid brass. The steam pipes are Byers' genuine lap-welded wrought iron tested hydraulically to 1000 lbs. The bathtubs and fixtures all solid porcelain.
No pipes visible anywhere. No radiators to be seen—all placed in recesses under windows. No electric bulbs to be seen.

¶ The "Big Room," or what some call the lobby, is 80 feet by 120, and the rugs in this one room will be worth $5000.00. The two great fireplaces in it will burn twelve-foot logs.

¶ For the golfers we are building lockers and shower bath rooms with a forty-foot swimming pool that will not be excelled by the finest clubs in existence, and the players will be less than 100 yards distant when they are on the links.

¶ Mr. Wm. S. Kenney, of Bretton Woods, N. H., who has shown in his management of The Mount Washington hotel and Hotel Clarendon, that he is the peer of hotel keepers, will manage the Inn.

¶ We own eight hundred acres around the Inn (consumptives not taken).

¶ Especially available for northern guests in the Spring, Fall and Winter, going or returning from farther southern resorts, or for an all Winter resort.

¶ The Inn is located on the side of Sunset Mountain, about a mile from the top, and is not only cool enough in the Summer to make a blanket necessary at night, but is protected and mild enough in the Winter to make life enjoyable without encavation.

LITTLE CHANCE TO OVERTAKE

Kentuckian Visits Grill Room of New York Hotel and Has Hearty Breakfast.

After his brother had been in New York a little more than a year, a Kentuckian decided to pay him a visit. Hoping to surprise his brother, the Kentuckian did not apprise his brother of his intentions. Arriving at nine o'clock in the morning, he asked to be directed to a good eating house. The taxicab pilot steered his course for the largest, comeliest and most fashionable hotel grillroom on Broadway.

Being a stranger in a strange land and hungry, the Bluegrass brother ordered a regular home meal. When he got the check from the waiter its size staggered him. He wasn't accustomed to New York hotel prices.

After verifying the correctness of his bill at the cashier's desk and being insulted by the waiter for tipping him twenty-five cents, the visitor started out to look for his brother, whose office he found about one o'clock.

In response to his inquiry as to his brother's whereabouts, a clerk said: "He's over at Blank's hotel's new grillroom."
"Go slow, friend, only a millionaire could overeat at the Blank hotel. I know, because I had breakfast there myself this morning."

Bird's Nest in Mail Box.

Probably a bird's nest in a rural mail box is a rare thing, if it has ever happened before, but out in Oswego a small bird has taken possession of a mail box and has already built her nest and laid three eggs and it looks as though she would complete her work of hatching and rearing her young.

The particular box picked out by the bird is one that is in use daily and the mail carrier never misses a stop at this box. Mrs. Bird seems to enjoy the idea to have the mail carrier lift the cover of the box and deposit the mail and will sit on her nest as unconcerned as can be. The mail box has been fixed so that it will not close entirely so that the bird may complete the task of rearing her young. It is not known what kind of a bird this is, but it is thought that it is a pheasant, being brown of color and about the size of a sparrow and laying sky-blue eggs.—Watertown Correspondent New London Day.

The Real Grievance.

Friend—You've got to admit there's nothing in Tripoli worth fighting for. Italian Diplomat—Certainly.
Friend—Then why do you want to keep on fighting?
Italian Diplomat—We've got to punish the Turks for giving us the impression that there was.—Satira.

Enormous Flocks of Sheep.

Recent official figures placed the number of sheep in Australia and New Zealand in excess of 117,000,000, the greatest number in 18 years.

PLAYGROUNDS.

Man plays only where he is a human being in the fullest sense of the word, and he has reached full humanity only when he plays. This proposition will acquire great and deep significance when we shall learn to refer it to the doubly serious ideas of duty and destiny. It will then sustain the entire superstructure of aesthetic and of the yet more difficult art of life.—Schiller.

The organized games under the direction of good trainers develop respect for the rights of others, fairness and self control, cement the schools and homes and counteract the lawlessness and destructiveness which are the lesson of the vacant lot.

Amusement is stronger than vice, and it alone can stifle the lust for it.—Jane Addams.

THE EXAMPLE OF A SMALL COMMUNITY.

How Winter Haven is Pushing Itself to the Front.

The day of small things is not to be despised, nor is the example of small communities. Winter Haven is a small place in Florida, but it has civic aspirations just the same. Among others it wants to present a clean and decent appearance (something our larger cities do not always present). Here is how Winter Haven went about accomplishing its desire. The words are those of the Florida Chief:

"Thursday was the day that several had promised to help clean up the park. At the appointed time three men, a boy, a mule team and a mowing machine appeared on the scene of action. To Manager Bass of the Glen St. Mary nursery is due much praise. He was there with his mules and mower. A. C. Nydegger and J. N. Ackley were also there with their muscle, and the writer sauntered around. Now we had figured on doing the hot air part, but upon arriving we found that others of our esteemed citizens had overworked that side of the street, and we were compelled to roll up our sleeves and help gather up the trash that some careless loons had thrown around. Anyway, the park was mowed and the trash picked up, and you are invited to enjoy its improved appearance."

One commentator thinks three men, a boy, an editor and a mule rather a small proportion, but if the same proportion were to hold in all the cities it would mean a mighty big change. The editor of the Chief seems to feel that there is hope. Here is the way he puts the case:

"This town is growing, and now is the time to start park improvements. It will be a heavy burden for three or four men to do it alone, but we have the men here who will do it if you don't help. But now listen: If they are allowed to do it alone the Chief will see they get the credit, so the general public will know whom to thank in years to come. If you allow it to go this way, don't come around and whine later on that this paper is run in the interest of three or four men, because you see by the paper that they have done something. We are here to chronicle the acts of live ones. We are willing to do the best we can in the way of obituary notices, but draw the line on trying to pump breath into a corpse."

Is there not a lesson in this for other communities than Winter Haven?

FIRE PREVENTION APPEAL.

New York Chief Asks Co-operation in Reducing Conflagrations.

The following appeal has been sent out by Joseph Johnson, fire commissioner of New York city:

Fire is a natural element. Even the best fire fighting force in the world is a Canute, vainly commanding it to stop, when once a conflagration takes full sway over a city. Yet we must fight it unceasingly and seek to reduce to a mere possibility the great, all destroying fire. Every fire, however small, is a potential conflagration. Since the beginning of the paid department in New York more than 500,000 fires have been put out. Our city still stands. It stands because of the vigilance, swiftness and courage of our men.

Now let us together seek to reduce the awful toll of life and property. It can be done by enlightened carelessness in your personal and business habits. Mere thoughtlessness with matches, cigars and cigarettes causes enormous loss. Let us begin to treat the match thrower as we treat the heedless splitter. Death follows the course of each. Join with us in our preventive efforts, and teach your children that fire is not a plaything.

Come, too, with the fire department in its crusade against incendiarism, which sets one fire in four. Fight with us against lax laws which permit insurance companies to offer an inducement to arson in the form of a policy.

The Billboard Fight.

Pleasant progress in fighting the billboard is reported from all quarters. Even from London, Paris, Berlin, Honolulu and many foreign cities reports come of new and more restrictive measures. Every city in the United States enacting new ordinances on the subject strikes a harder blow at these landscape blots. In not a single instance have we heard of a municipality relenting or allowing any to dictate an ordinance giving greater license to the billboard evil.—Los Angeles Times.

EFFECT OF FREEZE WILL BE FELT FOR SEVERAL YEARS

ESTIMATED IT WILL BE THREE YEARS BEFORE OUTPUT GETS BACK TO THE NORMAL PROPORTIONS.

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 11—Over 100 cars of oranges are going out of southern California a day and over three-fourths of the shippers are unable to say just what the fruit will look like when it reaches the eastern markets. The remaining one-fourth either smudged successfully, or on account of favored locality, had fruit which did not freeze as hard. It is safe to say that all fruit froze, but some did not freeze as hard as others, the virtue lying in that fact.

California oranges will stand a temperature outside of the tree of 25, and lemons of 25, for some hours without marked injury, provided the thawing is very gradual and that the fruit is always well sheltered by the leaves. Prolonged temperatures of about 25 degrees or lower for some time during the night will take everything in the way of fruit that projects out into the open. This is mentioned to show that after a freeze both good and bad fruit will be found on the same trees and in the same orchard. Of course the harder the freeze the less the proportion of salable fruit. A year ago last December the temperature in the citrus belt of southern California varied from 22 to 27 degrees during one cold night, yet about 40,000 cars of oranges and lemons went forward. Last month the minimums averaged 2 to 5 degrees lower than that, with the result that while last year's output was cut 10,000 cars this season's shipments will probably go about 10,000, including the 5,000 already shipped.

Not only will this year's output of oranges and lemons be lopped off hugely, but next year's output is bound to show a big shrinkage which will be about three years in getting back to normal. This is especially so in lemons. A drop in temperature to 28 degrees takes the small fruit, that would mature in September and October. Two degrees lower causes hollow centers in the fruit and anything much lower will cut the foliage, first the outside new growth, then farther and farther into the center of the tree; the next year yield falling off with the loss in the foliage. In the writer's trip through the citrus belt just a year ago he found a few dozen frozen trees; that is, trees entirely defoliated and with limbs beginning to split. This year there are thousands of two to three year old trees with split trunks that are going to perish.

Among growers the consensus of opinion is more and more prevailing that all picking of oranges should be withheld until March, when the exact condition of the California Naval can be accurately determined. So overwhelming has been the disaster that the best shippers are now loath to pack except under regular brands, thus doing away with the doubtful packs that last year should have gone to the dump heaps instead of going east under new and trumped up brands. There is a feeling in California that oranges are going to be worth money in March and with the best of the Florida crop out of the way and with California Navels at their best it is felt that nothing will be lost by waiting until then to pick, though the yield will be much smaller than if picked and graded now.

That a good deal of bad fruit has gone out since the freeze there is no doubt and probably all of it has brought more money than the grade demanded. A small section of about 100 acres, shipping through Alessandro, has been putting out a mess of stuff that no Californian would care to eat. The trees were cracked with the cold and the temperature went to 10, or near from there, but speculators were willing to take a chance at it by shipping. One large company has been shipping to eastern auction markets several cars a day since the freeze of fruit that was subjected to 20 degrees above zero and under for a good many hours. The fruit has been bringing good prices too.

On the whole the better class of growers and shippers are unwilling to ship at the present time and are pleased with the government's present activity in holding up bad shipments. The present ruling from the department at Washington defining frozen citrus fruit as packages containing 15 per cent or more fruit, that when cut transversely shows a marked drying in 20 per cent or more of the exposed pulp, will be helpful in establishing a grading standard to go by. The railroads definitely refused to make lower rates on oranges to eastern markets, which will also have a beneficial effect in restraining the unfit. Here the railroads acted wisely, both towards themselves and towards the consuming public, that now will not have to discriminate so closely between what is fit and what is unfit in oranges.

Raising Cotton.

Ever since the United States blockaded the southern ports early in the Civil war European countries have been trying to raise cotton in their Asiatic and African possessions. In half a century they have not succeeded in doing enough to make any particular impression upon the world's cotton markets. The area of the Nile valley is very limited. Cotton of a short staple is raised in India, but only in a moderate amount, and the culture shows little tendency to increase. Russia has long produced in her Asiatic possessions a moderate amount of cotton, and the little dispute over passports for American Jews increased the desire of Russia to reduce its imports from this country, to which end the minister of agriculture has just visited central Asia, but he has returned convinced that little can be done to increase cotton culture.

All About the Frog.

"The frog is a very queer-looking animal which lives on land and in water. If we notice we will find that tadpoles develop into frogs. They first have a tail and no feet and legs; then it loses its tail and two pairs of feet and legs grow on it; and it comes from the water and lives chiefly on land."—From a Schoolboy's Essay.

Somewhat Ambiguous.

A missionary stationed in a land where the natives were cannibals, wrote for assistance as follows: "Our small force of brethren seems to be unable to cope with the distress which prevails in the dark and heathen land. Please send a few more missionaries."—Sunday Magazine.

Getting It All.

The doctor told him he needed carbohy. rates, proteins, and, above all, something nitrogenous. The doctor mentioned a long list of foods for him to eat. He staggered out and wobbled into a Penn avenue restaurant. "How about beefsteak?" he asked the waiter. "Is that nitrogenous?" The waiter didn't know. "Are fried potatoes rich in carbohy. drates or not?" The waiter couldn't say. "Well, I'll fix it," declared the poor man in despair. "Bring me a large plate of hash."—Pittsburg Post.

Laborer Finds Old Coins.

A laborer working on the Jericho turnpike at Commack, L. I., dug up a bag of old coins. Within a minute other diggers were fighting for possession of the coins. The bag was rescued, with half its contents gone, by William O'Brien, foreman of the gang. Some of the coins were dated 1752. None was of earlier date than the early part of the eighteenth century.

ADVICE TO EMBRYO POETS

First Efforts Should Not Be Directed to Subjects That Would Test Genius.

Far, far is it from our wish or intention to hurt anybody's feelings, but we do wish to state, very gently, that one of the most difficult tasks a real poet, experienced and skilled in the practice of his art, could undertake, would be to write an adequate and fitting poem on the loss of the Titanic. For anyone else to attempt it is to invite inevitable failure, and failure of a kind that—well, of a kind that it would be unkind, in the circumstances, to characterize.

To be deeply and sincerely moved is one of the requisites for writing noble verse about a tragic episode in human history, but it is far from being the only requisite, and, with all respect for their emotions and intentions, we would suggest that those who have only a desire to express what they feel in regard to this calamitous event should do it otherwise than in verse. At least they should not try to get the verse printed, for by so doing they place upon the winners of metrical offerings the always painful duty to be cruelly kind.

Surely, surely, surely, a first effort to write poetry should not be on a subject that would test all the powers of a long-tested genius.

Some Time to Wait.

One evening an Irishman chanced to drop into a quiet meeting house of the Quakers, and being rather astonished as to what manner of place it was, resolved to remain quiet and listen. He behaved with remarkable decorum until a broad brim, no doubt moved by the spirit, informed his hearer: "I have married a wife," evidently being about to use this as a text. Pat was excited and called out, "The devil ye have!"

This interruption rather confused the young man, but he continued: "I have married a daughter of the Lord."

This was too much for one Emerald Islander, who exclaimed: "Se down, ye spalpeen! It'll be a long time before ye see your father-in-law!"

Its Moral.

"The thermometer is much like man in one respect."
"What is that?"
"When it once begins to take a drop, it falls by degrees."

Saving Time.

It will always be a problem how much time in a year is saved by the man who is the first to get off the train as it runs into the terminal.—Philadelphia Ledger.

Worried Hero.

A critic of Wells' novel, "Marriage," finds in the confounding of the hero
"the desire to have it all ways; to eternal feminine; who shall, by the grossness of her desires and the petti-

A. LINCOLN*JOHN E. PRICE WAS MEMBER

CALLS INCIDENT AS ONE OF THE REMARKABLE HAPPEN-INGS OF HIS LIFE.Tomorrow is the birthday anniversary of Abraham Lincoln, and in this connection it is interesting to note that in Daytona at this time is the last surviving member of the Pennsylvania train crew which was in charge of the train that carried the body of the martyred president from Columbus, Ohio, to Indianapolis on the way to the burial at Springfield, Ill.This man is John E. Price, whose home is in Columbus, Ohio, and who owns a winter home on Orange avenue and has been coming to Daytona for the winter season for many years.Although confined to his home rather closely with locomotor ataxia, Mr. Price is otherwise a well-preserved man of 70 years and recalls the incidents of his trip as one of the remarkable happenings of his life since he, with many other young Ohio soldiers, answered Lincoln's call for the 100 days' service.In the army at the age of 20, Mr. Price was first sergeant of Company E, 133d regiment, O. V. I., which was enrolled in May, 1864, saw 100 days' service in Virginia and Maryland, was mustered out at Camp Chase. The regiment was in the field near Petersburg at the time of the blowing up of the mines.After leaving this service, before which he was a student at Ohio Wesleyan university, he went into railroading and at the time of President Lincoln's assassination was a brakeman on that portion of the Pennsylvania lines which was then known as the Columbus, Cincinnati, Chicago and Indiana Central railway."The conductor of the train was Harry Dodge of Columbus," said Mr.
Price, "the engineer was another Columbus man, Jimmy Gormley, who later became a master mechanic, and Al Stevens, who later became a conductor on the road, was the middle brakeman. There was another brakeman on the front of the train whose name I do not recall. These with a porter, constituted the train crew."

Mourning Drapery Fired —

"Of course there was a distinguished gathering of high government officials on the train and also many of the leading officials of the road.
My uncle, Benjamin Smith, at that time was president of the road. I remember that one of the officials came to us in the evening and said, 'Now, boys, we have a number of very important men on board and it behooves us to give them every consideration. So I want each one of you to keep faithfully to his post.'
And so we did, each one keeping at his own set of brakes all night long.""At that time the engines burned cordwood in their fireboxes and the flying sparks and fragments of burning wood were numerous. The train was heavily draped with quickly inflammable material and this drapery caught fire several times and caused no end of concern in putting it out and watching for any further happenings of the same sort."

School Children Sang —

"The trip to Indianapolis was memorable. There were arches over the railway a long distance before we reached Indianapolis and everywhere we stopped the crowds were large and the grief profound. One of the interesting incidents of the trip was at Dublin, Indiana, where as a mark of respect the school children came out and sang some hymn to signify their sorrow. There were bonfires along the way and everywhere the people seemed to express the utmost interest and respect."DEER THAT WEIGHS SIXTY OUNCESIn a miniature crate there arrived at the Bronx Zoo, New York, the other day, a mouse deer that weighs just 60 ounces and is eight and three-quarters inches high. The mouse deer is a true member of the deer family and is known to the natives of India, whence it hails, as "chevrotain." These creatures are very shy. They never venture into open spaces but keep in the densest portions of the jungle. They have a peculiar way of walking on the extreme tips of the hoofs, which gives one the impression that the mouse deer is stiff-legged. The specimen at the Zoo is the gift of M. Taylor Pyne, who got him from a Hindoo. It is almost pure white, save for a slight reddish tinge to a line of hair along the spine. It has no antlers, but two sharp tusks grow from the upper jaw and hang below the under lip.THE AUCTION SALE AT

In the west, it continued for several centuries to be applied to bishops gen-

Roman pontiff by Gregory VII. in a synod, held at Rome in 1073.Met Peculiar Death.A case in which three bluejackets was described in the recent annual re-

The men were overcome in a provision was a stock of potatoes. Some of the potatoes were germinating, and this gave rise to an accumulation of gas, which suffocated the men.Whitelaw Reid to Newspaper Men.Whitelaw Reid, in a speech some

AUTHORS' BLUNDERS.

Some Amusing Slips Made by Famous French Writers.

M. Tiberit (Cin) published in La Revue de Paris an amusing series of howlers perpetrated, not by school-boys, but by the great panjandrums of French literature. It appears that hardly one of the great men in the phalanx of nodding Homers escapes.

First comes Tiberit himself with "Throughout the torrents of rain poured down, and twenty thousand Austrians bit the dust."

The weighty and erudite lawyer, M. Troplong, proclaims in one of his sonnet tomes that "In the midst of many crumbling institutions that of property stands erect on its feet, seated upon justice."

The pen of the famous critic, Francisque Sarcey, had its frequent lapses. "On his helmet waves a missing plume!" and "In the tones of Mlle. Ugalde one recognizes her mother's familiar hand!" for example.

M. Toussaint, journalist, naturalist and historian, has a sentence, no doubt, of profound ethnographical interest which might perhaps have been phrased otherwise: "The English and Russian nations, the two greatest powers in the world, are precisely those in which the man makes the greatest efforts to resemble the woman—the Englishman by shaving himself daily, the Russian by puffing out his chest."

WHITE RAINBOWS.

Formed by a Strong Light, a Fine Rain and a Low Sun.

Though rainbows are generally associated with colors, there is such a phenomenon, very rare, it is true, as a white rainbow. The circumstances necessary for its formation are a fine rain and a strong sun. The phenomenon is due to the optic principle known as interference. If the drops of water be very small, the interference of the rays causes such a complete overlapping of the colors that the bow appears white.

That is to say, the various prismatic colors, instead of being thrown out separately, as in the ordinary prism, are thrown one on the top of the other, and the light is thrown by the sun, as it were, on a sheet of rain. The fine close rain produces the same effect as a woven texture. This result is still more noticeable where a fog takes the place of the rain.

The phenomenon is not often noticed, because the conditions absolutely necessary to the formation of a white rainbow are a strong light, a close rain and a sun lying near the horizon. These three conditions are not often present at the same time.—Westminster Gazette.

As You Please.

In the ancient times there lived a wonderfully wise man, of whom it was said that he could answer correctly any question put to him. There was one, however, who thought himself clever enough to outwit the sage. This man took a poor, captive bird and clasped it so closely in his hand that only the head and tail were visible.

"Tell me," said he to the renowned guesser of riddles, "is the bird which I hold in my hand alive or dead?"

If the answer were "Dead," thought this artful plotter, he would just open his hand and let the bird fly. If the answer were "Alive" he would with one little squeeze crush the poor bird to death.

But the wise man proved himself equal to the occasion and replied, "It is as you please."

Each one holds within his or her grasp the fair bird of life. Which is it to be—a blessing or a bane? It is "as you please."

Inns in Hungary.

Wayside inns in Hungary generally rejoice in very quaint titles. This one was called the Dropperin and had the usual sign outside—viz, a long pole with a wooden ring and a gigantic wine bottle suspended from it. The system of keeping the scores is primitive, but practical. The regular customers and the innkeeper have each a bit of wood called rovas, with the name of the person written on it, and every liter of wine consumed is marked by each making a notch on his respective bit of wood. When the score is paid off both the rovas are burned. Consequently you hear the peasants inviting each other to Ingynoroviasmora, literally drink on my "knotch stick," which sounds most comical.—Wanderings in Hungary.

The Solution.

The bankruptcy court can boast some delightfully naive rejoinders. "How, sir, is it possible," angrily demanded the opposing counsel of the bankrupt, "to live in the luxurious style you have affected on $200 a year?" The witness replied, with an air of justifiable pride, that that "was a problem to which he had devoted considerable time in the interests of social economy, and the results of his humble efforts were now before the court."

Pains That Never Come.

"Do you think animals feel pain as deeply as we do?"

"I've never studied the subject, but it is safe to say that they don't worry as much as we do over pains that have not yet been felt."—Chicago Record-Herald.

The Man Under the Bed.

Mrs. Timid—Did you ever find a man under the bed? Mrs. Bluff—Yes; the night we thought there were burglars in the house, I found my husband there.

We ought either to be silent or speak things better than silence.—Pythagoras.

HOW VACANT LOT GARDENING PAYS

One Old Man Supports Family of Five on Little Patch.

BEAUTIFIES THE BARE SPOTS.

The Case of Charles Bilger, One Armed and Poverty Stricken, an Example of What This Form of Charity Will Do For the City.

Is vacant lot gardening profitable? Practical experience has shown without a doubt that this is a real charity. Helping others to help themselves is one of the best movements ever inaugurated in this country. For fifteen seasons men and women, aged, ill or out of work, have kept the wolf from the door by nothing more than a little plot of ground that would otherwise have gone to waste.

Figures speak for themselves. The fact that ground allotted by the Philadelphia Vacant Lots Cultivation association netted about $22,100 to 442 families during the past season shows that the work is worth while. According to James H. Dix, the superintendent, and Charles Horn, his assistant.

the average profit to a family amounts to about $50. Some have less than this, but others have $100 and even more at the close of the season. A few can supply their own tables with vegetables and still be $50 to the good.

One man at least has supported a family of five on his little patch, and when he first took charge of the garden he didn't know a thing about the work. He is Charles Bilger, old and one armed, of Philadelphia. His garden is at Wynnefield.

Bilger succeeded through perseverance. Every morning between April and September he could be found at his miniature farm about 5 o'clock in the morning, and he kept toiling continually until 5 o'clock in the afternoon. He has a little shanty on the grounds, and here he prepared his food and stored his vegetables.

There is hardly anything that is in season in the vegetable line that could not be found on Bilger's patch, and he is justly proud of his crops. Last summer he had potatoes, tomatoes, corn, string beans, lima beans, lettuce, pumpkins and cabbage. During the harvest season he needed the assistance of two men to handle his crops. It was a familiar sight at that time to see Bilger going along George's hill pushing with his one hand his wheelbarrow piled high with eatables. Several times the produce was hauled away by a horse and wagon. Bilger is already known for the fine vegetables he produces and has no trouble in getting customers.

Farming was a mystery to Bilger six years ago. He lost his arm in a railroad accident and had difficulty in securing employment. Then the garden was offered to him. This helped to keep himself, his wife, his widowed daughter and her children. The grandchildren assist in supporting the family now.

Many other men have found their experience on these gardens to be helpful. Several have obtained positions in the forestry reserve, while others have secured farms of their own.

This outdoor work has also proved of great benefit to the numerous mothers and children who have been engaged in it for besides providing fresh vegetables for the table they have received plenty of good exercise, which means good health.

Town Boom Philosophy.

If you are a kicker and see the shadows of failure in everything that is proposed to help the town, for heaven's sake go into some secluded canyon and kick your own shadow on the clay bank and give the men who are working to build up the town a chance. One long faced, hollow eyed, whining, carking chronic kicker can do more to keep away business and capital from a town than all the drafts, short crops, chinche bugs, cyclones and blizzards combined.—White Hall (Ill.) Register.

STATE HAPPENINGS

News from Fair Florida Briefly Told

Next fall Chipley is going to have a sweet potato cannery. This will be installed by one of Chipley's progressive citizens.

The Punta Gorda Herald says: "Boca Grande is likely to become a second Atlantic City when the plans of capitalists who are now exploiting the island are consummated."

The home economics department of the Florida Woman's college at Tallahassee gave a dinner a few days ago in honor of Governor Trammell, his cabinet officers and their wives.

Bradentown is to have a new up-to-date bottling plant. The very latest improved machinery will be installed, including a sanitary automatic bottle washer. The plant will be in operation by March 1st.

Seventy thousand dollars will be expended upon the highways of St. Johns county within the next few months. The Jacksonville and Hastings-Elkton highway is to be completed. Augusta gravel will be used for the paving.

Plans are being made for the entertainment of the national child labor conference, which will meet in Jacksonville, March 13 to 16. This will be the first national conference of the character ever held in Jacksonville, and it is expected to be a great success.

The Manatee River Journal says: "The city of Bradentown is making great improvements in the shape of curbing, paving, sewers and parks. In addition to this the county is building a fine court house and a high school, which combined with the city's improvements will make Bradentown an ideal city for your home."

Fire broke out in the Grand hotel in Orlando a few nights ago. The hotel is situated above the new Grand theater in that city, and while the fire did not do much damage to the hotel the beautiful ceiling and decorations in the theater were largely damaged by water which leaked through.

The bluefish business in Fernandina is assuming immense proportions, new boats and crews are continually arriving. The Belle Bryson, fishing smack from New York, came here from New York for the purpose of engaging in this industry. The Albatross and an unnamed boat came from St. Augustine. The Roulette recently came in with 3,500 pounds of fish, and the Bryson made a catch of 4,000 pounds the first day she went out. These fish sell readily in New York for from 15 to 30 cents a pound. There are about 60 men engaged in this fishing at present and next year there will probably be from 600 to 1,200 men engaged in this business here; $400 to $500 a month is nothing unusual for each man on a smack to make clear each month. S. Salvador has just returned from New York City, where he went with a solid carload of bluefish from this place.—Fernandina News.

The shampoo might be robbed of some of its terror by the use of signals (of distress and others), so that the victim, especially when hard pressed, could communicate with the operator.

OUTLINES CITY'S NEEDS.

Spokane Chamber of Commerce Prepares a Working Schedule.

The Municipal Journal reports that the Spokane chamber of commerce has outlined the following topics for discussion at public meetings:

The placing of shade trees on residence streets and their maintenance, adoption of artistic styles of bridges and approaches, artistic and practical schemes for river bank improvement, erection and supervision of statuary, fountains and other ornamental works in parks and at intersections of boulevards and thoroughfares, consideration of a uniform method for cleaning and sprinkling streets, abolition and removal of all obstructions to streets and sidewalks, more artistic gas and electric light posts and other public utilities situated in or encroaching upon streets and public places, regulation of billboards for the purpose of their gradual elimination, especially in the residence districts and more effective arrangements of street lighting.

This is a very comprehensive review of improvement needs.

Preservation of Aged Trees.

At a meeting in Massachusetts one of the speakers was Christopher Clark, for a quarter of a century tree warden of Northampton. Mr. Clark has lived there for eighty-one years. He told the audience how much the people prized the aged trees planted by the first settlers. He stated that over twenty barrels of cement had been used to stop the decay and fill the cavities of a single large tree. Will other towns please sit up and take notice? In years to come they should have streets lined with giant trees, each one valued at at least $1,000.

Future residents will then gladly spend a hundred or two dollars to arrest decay in one. Better plant your street in full this season.

The Electric Pencil.

A novelty is a penholder permitting one to write in the dark, since it is provided with an electric light. The tube through which the point of the pencil goes is fitted with a small accumulator and an electric lamp. The latter throws a disk of light over the point where the writing is being done. This luminous pencil has been invented for the use of doctors, reporters, detectives, etc., whose work necessitates the taking of notes in the streets and in darkness.—Harper's.

Black Opals.

Black opals are commonly the result of artificial coloring, but true black opals have been mined in a small district at the head of the river Darling in northern New South Wales, during the last nine years. The output was at first very small, but for a few years amounted to 30,000 or 40,000 per annum. At present, according to a consular report from Adelaide, they have become extremely rare, hardly any having been found during the last nine months.

Her Choice.

"Why should I marry you?" she asked superciliously.

"Well, of course," he replied viciously, "you can die an old maid if you want to"—Lippincott's.

Afterthoughts.

A—The best retorts are never uttered.

B—No?

A—No. I think of 'em ten minutes after the other fellow has gone home.

CHANGE IS NEEDED IN
EXAMINATIONPOOR SYSTEM OF LEARNING
CONDITIONS OF THE BANKS

STRONG EFFORT BEING MADE BY COMPTROLLER OF THE
CURRENCY TO INAUGURATE
SOME CHANGES.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 11.—Following the movement among national legislators for currency reform, there has been tremendous efforts made by the comptroller of currency in this administration to bring about reforms in the manner of doing the country's banking business, as far as the limited powers of his office allow. During the past two years, much valuable data has been secured by Lawrence O. Murray, comptroller of the currency, often termed the watch dog of the national banks, through a system lately installed of requiring bank examiners to report upon conditions of national banks, from time to time. The idea has spread generally throughout the country and all bank examiners have at times recommended to Mr. Murray certain matters that have helped to put on a higher plane the method of examining national banks.

It has also been of benefit to the state bank examiners and at present, Mr. Murray says, state bank examining boards are reaching the high state of efficiency already attained by the national government.
This co-operation between the state and the federal government has been termed government control of banks.
It has resulted in better conditions.
It is stated that there is not too much supervision, as claimed by certain New York interests while testifying before the Pujo money trust committee, but on the other hand, not enough. It is pointed out that through a well regulated and honest bank examination, public confidence in national as well as state institutions has been fully restored.

In this connection National Bank Examiner Giles M. Wilson, having jurisdiction in South Carolina and Georgia, says that the national bank act needs revision in several respects, but in none more than to provide for really effective examination. He states that fully one-fourth of all examinations as now conducted have weak spots in them, perhaps even a greater percentage.
Under existing conditions, however, he says, a national bank examiner can accomplish many good things and make his regular visitations of great value.

At present national bank examiners are instructed to cover the following points in making examination: Verify the cash by actual count, making careful note of irregular checks and cash items; list the bills receivable to prove that the amount called for by the general ledger is in hand; go over these bills again in the presence of an officer and preferably with one or more outside directors, to secure the proper data on large or excessive lines and to obtain the liability of officers and directors, their firms and their companies or corporations in which they are financially interested, and to inspect and value such collateral as may be pledged on same, as well as to ascertain if all signatures and endorsements are genuine and that no borrower has secured a larger loan than his business and general financial standing will warrant; copy a statement of the condition of the bank at the close of business on the previous day; and in every way ascertain a full and complete examination of the bank's condition.

In a country bank of $100,000 capitalization, this can be accomplished in a day's grind of 12 hours, but in banks of upwards of this amount, it is almost an impossibility for the examiner to accomplish his work satisfactorily in a short space of time.

For this work the examiner is paid a fee of $25.00 for a bank of $100,- 000 capitalization, to $75.00 for a bank which has a capitalization of $600,000 and more. The examiner must pay his own expenses.

About Umbrellas.

Umbrella wearers have long since complained that people are careless with umbrellas. Many pairs of glasses have been knocked off and broken by persons who selfishly refuse to move an umbrella so as to allow other people to easily pass. A few even persist in dangerously spinning an umbrella along a crowded street, endangering the glasses and sometimes eyes of passing walkers.

Wells and Dr. and Mrs. Trask spent came here by way of New Orleans.

Dr. Trask says there is a big crowd

WILL TRY TO SWIM THE ENGLISH CHANNEL

CAPT. BENJAMIN F. SCHLEM-BERG OF UNITED STATES VOL-UNTEER LIFE SAVING CORPS IS HERE FOR A WEEK'S STAY.

Capt. Benjamin F. Schlemberg, United States volunteer life saving corps, is in the city for a time for the purpose of interesting young men in this branch of Uncle Sam's service. Capt. Schlemberg arrived this morning from Palm Beach and will probably return there and make it his headquarters for the remainder of the winter. He expects to remain here for about a week and during his stay will be located on the ocean beach. The captain spent some time at Jacksonville and also at Miami.

Captain Schlemberg is training for an attempt to swim the English channel, a feat accomplished by only one man, Capt. Webb, who was successful in swimming the 27 miles of rough water about 15 years ago.
Many others have attempted it, but all have failed. While at Palm Beach the captain will start out with short swims of a mile or more and gradually increase the distance and by the end of his stay he hopes to be able to make 12 or 15 miles. The longest distance he has ever gone at one time is 18 miles. On March 3rd the captain will break training long enough to go to Washington for the inauguration exercises and to join in the parade with other officers of the volunteer life savers.

To the Telephone Using Public—

Our system has increased in an unusual way and we ask that the people who use telephones will have consideration enough for our operators not to use sarcastic or insulting language such as has been used for the past three or four days. It is true that the girls do retaliate and we all believe that you would do worse than they, but try to be courteous and the new board will be here and installed to please you and relieve the present strain in our

Please be courteous to our opera-their eyes and you can cause them
